Many people cannot afford to have weak nerves. It would mean loss of livelihood. To everyone the loss of nervous energy is a serious matter. Every action of mind or body calls for the expenditure of nervous energy and it is the busi-ness of the blood to carry the necessary elements to the nerves to compensate for this expenditure. As soon as the blood, for any reason, loses this power to constantly rebuild the nerves the nervous decline begins which, if unchecked, results in a nervous breakdown. This is the history of such

Mr. Calvin R. Lillard, whose address is R. F. D. No. 2, Ringgold, Ga., says: "Ten years ago I was Ga., says: "Ten years ago I was stricken with nervous prestration. I wasn't able to do anything and was confined to bed for a part of the time. I had headaches frequently and a slight palpitation of the heart. My appetite was poor and my stomach was weak. I could not sleep well; some nights for no more than an hour. After four years of sickness I began pring four years of sickness I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pa'e People and found that they gave me strength. I kept up their use until I was entirely well."
